NEED POLICE PATROL; CAN IT BE SECURED?

Citizens Must Get Council and Safety Board to Pass Measure.

Mishawaka needs a police patrol but will she get it?

This is the question that is being discussed about town by business men and citizens following the automobile accident on Lincoln way E. Wednesday night. Opinions expressed are decidedly in favor of the acquisition of such a vehicle but expressing opinions and getting a patrol are two different matters.

In order to secure the wagon, the board of safety would have to recommend it to the council and the council in turn would have to appropriate money for it from the general fund.

This seems easy as the three members of the board of safety are members of the council and should be able to get another member in their favor and push the thing through. But the mayor has power of veto over any measure passed by the council.

In his campaign platform, the mayor took issue with the demonstrators on the patrol wagon question and was firmly opposed to it. The democrats under Mayor Herzog were for the patrol and had inspected several with a promise of getting one for the city if they were re-established in power.

It is said in city hall circles that the mayor has admitted that there was urgent need of the patrol but that it calls him to be forced to "renig" on his platform. However, he may, in the face of the growing popular demand for a wagon, consent to its purchase.

That the need is urgent was demonstrated at the accident Wednesday night when the police were powerless to care for the victims until the arrival of the ambulance, the little girl being rushed to the hospital through the kindness of a citizen.

When arrests are made by the local police the culprit must be marched along the downtown streets in tow of a big motor car, subject to the hoots and jeers of the crowd of children which follow in his wake as well as those of women who stand in their yards and mock him for lack of something better to do.

Should the man be found not guilty of the crime charged, every one has seen him in custody and it gives him a black mark which often is hard to live down.

Business men, through the Business Men's association, have gone on record as being heartily in favor of a wagon, and have agreed to do all in their power to secure a patrol for the city, feeling that a city the size of Mishawaka should have one.

Mr. Lambotte of the Temple theatre has offered to stake a benefit performance, the major share of the receipts to be turned over to the association for the purchase of the patrol.

It is believed that the majority of the city officials, especially the members of the board of safety and public works and the council are in favor of the acquisition of a police patrol. There is a movement on foot for the enlargement of the city jail and there is talk of taking the money to be used for this purpose and applying it to the purchase of the new wagon.

DR. EDWARDS SPEAKS ON LATE CONFERENCE

Four of Seven New Bishops Appointed Have Spoken from Local Pulpit.

Rev. Dr. Loren M. Edwards, in the course of his remarks at the evening service in the Methodist Memorial church Sunday, mentioned the fact that four of the seven new bishops appointed at the recent general conference, had spoken from the local pulpit and three of them had been on the conference program two years ago.

"Apparently the quick route to the bishopric in the Methodist church is to be born in a parsonage and come to Mishawaka to preach," said Dr. Edwards, a son of the parsonage, with a merry twinkle.

He mentioned some of the more particularly significant things done at the conference, and characterized as having to do with the union of the different branches of American Methodism, particularly the two Episcopal Methodisms north and south.

"That this consummation may be hastened, was evident from the fact that the adjournment was not sine die, but at the call of bishops, which means that in 1918 at the seat of the general conference of the southern church our general conference will meet in special session when it is fondly hoped that Methodist union will become a fact," said the speaker.

The next action in order of its significance was the adoption of a world program for the church. The Methodist Episcopal church has come to be a world church and while it has been operating in all parts of the world, it was seen there was need of a comprehensive program such as has not been attempted before.

"We are the only Protestant operating in all the lands engaged in war—our Methodist brothers have answered the call to the colors in every nation at war—are now in the trenches or have paid a soldier's supreme sacrifice of heroism. When Simons of Russia sent a cablegram to our cousin, Francis McCoy, which was held there Sunday afternoon, Joshua and Henry McCoy, brothers of the deceased, returned with Mr. Ochampaugh and will spend some time at his home visiting here and in Niles and Dowagiac. They are from Whitehall, Mich.

Several other noteworthy actions of the conference were referred to by Dr. Edwards, who in closing his remarks said that while it had not done some things that many of them had hoped for, it sins it had they were of omission rather than of commission.

ATTENDS FUNERAL AT NILES.
Sergt. Charles Ochampaugh of the local police force was called to Niles Sunday to attend the funeral of his cousin, Francis McCoy, which was held there Sunday afternoon.

SQUABBLE OVER PIGEONS.
Heated arguments were rife at the fire station Sunday over whose pigeon came in first in Sunday's flight. It seems to be an established fact that "Penny," owned by Dick Scheffler, was first, and "Tomato Pally," chaperoned by Chief Buysse, was last, but the rest of the places are in doubt.

LEAGUE ELECTS DELEGATES.
Gladys Ainley was elected a delegate and Lily Boles was elected alternate to the district conference of the Epworth league at the league meeting Sunday night. A social will be given by the league in the parlors of the Methodist Episcopal Memorial church Friday evening, June 9.

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG AT THE TEMPLE TODAY

Clara Kimball Young will be seen in "Lola" at the Temple today. This is a superb Shubert feature photo-play in five acts, from the adaptation of Owen Davis' play, and pictured by James Young, the favorite picture star. The story of "Lola," it is said, is one of the most remarkable that has ever been put on the screen, and there is no doubt that it will become a subject of widespread discussion and divergence of opinion.

In the production, Clara Kimball Young has found a vehicle which enables her to give full vent to her unique gift of emotional characterization, and at the same time portray a story of extraordinary interest. Dustin Farnum, the prince of popularity, will be the attraction at the Temple Tuesday in the big Paramount feature, "Ben Blair."

The mother did not object to the proceeding.

Mrs. M. C. Shea, 219 Studebaker st., tried to commit suicide Sunday morning by jumping into the river at the foot of Merritt way. A passer-by saw the woman struggling in the water and pulled her out. Despondency over the death of her husband, who died last winter is thought to be the cause for her act.

SALOON RIOTERS PLEAD NOT GUILTY TO CHARGE

Three Men Who Attacked Frank Ernst Held Until Thursday.

Henry Kicski, Peter and Walter Kaczinski pleaded not guilty to charges of assault and battery with intent when arraigned before Judge Feig in police court Monday morning. Their cases were continued until Thursday morning owing to the inability of the complaining witness to be present.

The men were arrested for an attack made on Frank Ernst, and his bartender, Levi Keister in the Ernest saloon, N. Main st., Friday night. Ernest is unable to leave his home as a result of his injuries.

Kicski, the eldest of the three, himself only 31, tried to work the sympathy "krag" on the judge by having his wife and two children in court and making a great deal of fuss over them. When he was led away to the jail he collapsed and fell to the floor. He recovered in time to be taken to South Bend, however, along with Walter Kaczinski. Peter Kaczinski put up a $100 bond and was released.

The famous restaurants and the exclusive The Dansants are an added attraction. The gowns of the women are also worthy of mention. Lillian Gish and Owen Moore, two movie favorites, plays the leading roles in tonight's picture.

NIGHT DUEL IS BIG FEATURE OF BATTLE

Scientific shell pushed through her thinner plates, exploding in the magazine. The ship buckled up and sank like a stone. The next victim of the German shells filled with poison gas filled the vessel with fumes and worked great havoc among the gun crews. Soon the Lion had to fall out of line, one of her turrets having been jammed and several of her guns having been put out of commission.

"About this time the Invincible, Indomitable and Indefatigable arrived from another station and with them came armored cruisers of the second cruiser squadron, including the Warrior, Defence and Black Prince.

"The Invincible was riddled with shells and was struck by a torpedo in a vital spot."

platform would be brief it would not be radically altered.

Two more or less complete tentative platforms put in an appearance today. One was an "Old Guard" document, framed and circulated by Guardsman Murray Crane of Massachusetts. The other was a progressive-republican platform, framed by progressive-republican members of congress in Washington and brought to Chicago by Sen. Kenyon of Iowa. Sen. Borah of Idaho was responsible for a large part of the Washington platform, and its provisions entered largely into harmony negotiations between Old Guard and progressive leaders today. The platform is to be made the basis of "trading" if the Old Guard leaders can convince the progressives that concessions in the platform are worth trading for.

General Provisions

The general provisions of the big planks as now in the process of formation, would declare:

"That the party believes in a virile 'Americanism,' fostered by the protection of American rights throughout the world.

"That the party is for 'peace with honor,' but not for 'peace at any price.'

"That the party has renewed faith in the protective tariff system, favors a nonpartisan tariff commission and deprecates the effects of the Underwood tariff law.

"That the country should prepare for possible war by building the navy back into second rank among the world powers and by following the army war college plans for the army. The preparedness plank will probably advocate universal military training.

The plank criticizing the administration's conduct of the business affairs of the government will be directed principally at the administration of the postoffice department and at "pork barrel" appropriations of the democratic congress.

Sen. Kenyon began a campaign today for a platform plank that would commit the party to the creation of an internal waterways commission to handle rivers and harbors improvement appropriations. Sen. Kenyon, who for years has fought "pork barrel" river and harbor bills in the senate, declared that a plank pledging the party to a business method of handling the large sums for waterway improvement was an absolute necessity.

named by the republican convention be acceptable?" he was asked.

"Before I can accept the candidacy of any man I must know where he stands."

"Will Col. Roosevelt be nominated by the progressive party regardless of what is done by the republicans?" he then was asked.

"That is a matter that rests on the knees of the gods," was his answer.

Hughes Accepts Doubtful.

The progressives plainly show that they do not believe that Justice Hughes will make a statement that will admit their naming him as their standard bearer.

Harold Ickes went so strong as to issue a public statement which he distributed freely among the "Old Guard" delegations.

"On the face of the present situation," his statement said, "Justice Hughes is plainly impossible of consideration for the progressive nomination, and there seems no reasonable expectation of any change in the situation before the progressive convention makes its choice."

The belief prevails strongly in progressive circles today that Col. Roosevelt will come here himself. His secretary, John McGrath, said that as far as he knows at the present time, the colonel would not come, but that he did not know what developments might be expected.
